PART -2- READING (Questions 16-30) (20 pts.)

IV. Read the text and choose the correct answer.

The weather is important for many parts of our lives. It can affect the food we eat, the homes we live in, the work we do and how we travel to work. It also changes how we live our lives, the way we spend our spare time and what happens to our health.

Firstly, the seasons are important. When the weather is warm and sunny, people take more exercise and eat healthier and fresher food. In winter, many people in cold places such as Canada spend most of the winter because they don't want to go out in cold weather. In Toronto, there are walkways under the ground so people can walk around more comfortably. They connect public transport with shops, offices and sports centres.

The weather also affects companies. They need to organize their businesses differently. For example, the weather changes things that farmers can grow. Storms mean transport companies have to prepare for problems. Also, people start and finish work at different times and wear different clothes depending on the weather. In some countries like Morocco or Portugal, it is often hot for most of the year. So, people in these countries often start work earlier than in other places and sometimes work in the evenings because it is cooler.

Finally, the weather is important for governments. When the weather is very hot or cold, governments have to make decisions about how they should spend their money. In the winter in cold countries, more people are sick so hospitals often need more doctors and nurses.

Transport companies need to clear the road, too. Money is important for these, so governments have to think carefully. It is clear that the weather is much more important than we think, and it affects our daily activities.

16. What is the best title for the text?

- a. How the world's weather is changing
- b. What to do in bad weather
- c. How the weather affects our lives

17. In the winter in Canada, people spend a lot of time indoors because of _____.

- a. the temperatures
- b. working hours
- c. the rain

18. The topic of paragraph 2 is _____.

- a. the weather in Toronto
- b. how weather affects people's daily activities
- c. how weather affects public transport

19. What does the word 'They' in paragraph 2, line 4 refer to?

- a. people
- b. the walkways
- c. the ground

20. Companies organize their businesses differently because _____.
- a. the weather conditions change things
 - b. they start work earlier
 - c. they leave work late in winter
21. Storms can affect _____.
- a. schools
 - b. public transport companies
 - c. children
22. People in hot countries sometimes have to work _____.
- a. until early morning
 - b. at lunch time
 - c. in the evening
23. _____ need to think about how to spend money when the weather is bad.
- a. Governments
 - b. Families
 - c. Doctors
24. The government should spend their money on helping _____ when the weather is cold.
- a. hospitals and transport companies
 - b. schools and poor people
 - c. homeless people on the streets

V. Read the text and choose “a” for True, “b” for False.

Stopping Traffic Problems

Many large cities have traffic problems, but it’s difficult to stop people using their cars. We know we shouldn’t drive everywhere and should take public transport, but we don’t do it. People love their cars and public transport in many places is not very good. A GPS company studied why there are lots of traffic problems in cities. What did they find? They found that around %30 of the cars on the roads are drivers looking for a parking place. These drivers are driving around and around the city when they don’t need to. Now there is technology that can tell drivers where there are empty parking spaces, but the problems continue. The most important reason for traffic problems is people. Did you know that most people drive too fast or too slow? Angry drivers do things too quickly and nervous drivers are too slow. Both of these actions make traffic problems.

In the past, we didn’t know what to do about this problem, but now there are lots of answers. For example, there’s technology for cars to ‘talk’ to each other and tell each other about the traffic situation. A company tested the technology and it stopped many traffic problems. The cars sent messages to each other about the area and the drivers could plan their journeys better. Some cities want to make public transport better. For example, ten years ago, Istanbul and Sydney didn’t have good public transport. But they increased the number of boats for public transport and now the service is much better. Not all cities can do this, but it is great for cities beside rivers or next to the sea. In the future, there could be more ideas such as bicycle-only roads or buses with robot drivers. At the moment, people choose their cars because they are comfortable and they can listen to music or the radio. The public transport of the future needs to be better.

- 26. About 30% of drivers are trying to find somewhere to park.
a. True b. False
- 27. The way people drive their cars is the main reason for traffic problems.
a. True b. False
- 28. Slow drivers don’t make any traffic problems.
a. True b. False
- 29. Technology for cars to tell each other about the traffic situation didn’t help traffic problems.
a. True b. False
- 30. Public transport in Istanbul and Sydney is better now than ten years ago.
a. True b. False
