Is Sleeping All Day Good?

- 1) In the summer, it's easy to stay active. The weather is warm, and many people enjoy walking, and spending time outdoors. But in the winter, it can be harder to stay active. The cold weather makes many adults feel tired, and they can end up sleeping more than usual.
- 2) Is it bad to sleep a lot? Not really. Everyone needs rest, and it's important to sleep enough. However, the problem comes when adults sleep too much and don't do anything else during the day. Too much sleep can make you feel even more tired.
- 3) Experts say adults should sleep for 7-9 hours every night. In winter, it's likely to sleep more because it's cold and dark outside. But too much sleep can make it harder to wake up in the morning and feel active.
- 4) The good news is you don't have to sleep for hours to feel good. Even getting up for 10 or 15 minutes during the day to walk around can help you feel more awake. It's important to move around a bit, especially if you're inside a lot during the winter.
- 5) It's also nice to meet friends or family for a quick walk or coffee. If you do this, it can help you stay active and not feel sleepy all day. Sometimes, talking with someone or having a snack can give you the energy to keep going.

- 2) But overcrowding isn't the only problem. Mexico City is on a lake. Every year, the city goes down about 10 centimeters. The ground is also soft, so it is difficult to build anything on it. Heavy rain can cause floods, and many parts of the city often have problems with water.
- 3) In 2010, the government built new systems to help stop flooding, but it hasn't been enough. Some areas still flood after heavy rain. Many buildings are at risk, and it's very expensive to fix them. People in these areas often face dangerous conditions.
- 4) The Mexican government is now thinking about a new plan. They want to create a new city outside Mexico City. This new city will be much bigger than the capital and will have modern buildings and many green spaces. The government hopes it will reduce the number of people living in the capital.
